The Kentucky Division of Forestry and the University of Kentucky, Department of Forestry Extension team has prepared Forest Industries of Kentucky 2014 as a directory to provide information about all of Kentucky wood industries. This directory has four major sections that describe markets for standing timber, cut logs and bolts, and wood products plus an alphabetical guide, county guide, product guide, and industry type guide.

The information in this directory is based on 2013 field surveys conducted by KDF and UK employees. Inclusion in this directory does not constitute recommendation by UK or KDF. Likewise, omission of a company in the listing does not reflect any firm’s activities. If your business has not been included here, please use the form at the back of this directory to provide us with the pertinent information.

We offer our thanks to all companies participating in this effort and a tremendous thanks to the KDF and UK staff involved in compiling this directory.

Sincerely,

Leah W. MacSwords

Use of Directory

Alphabetical Guide
This index lists all forest products industries in the state of Kentucky alphabetically including: a contact person's name, address, phone numbers, e-mail and web site. Also listed is the number of employees and the main products manufactured.

County Guide
This index lists the operations alphabetically by county. Each county name is followed by a list of adjoining counties. This enables the user to quickly locate other markets or suppliers close to those in the original area of interest should such information be desired. Information included in this section includes: company name, contact person, address, phone number, FAX number, number of employees, industry type (primary companies usually are involved with tree, log, and lumber production and secondary companies usually are involved in the manufacturing process starting with lumber. Some companies are involved in both.), e-mail address, website, county location, adjacent counties, equipment, methods bought (this is the form in which raw materials are purchased, such as stumpage, log delivered, and lumber etc.), species purchased, and products manufactured.

Product Guide
This section lists companies by a specific product arranged in alphabetical order. The Product Guide has approximately 300 products listed. See Product Guide for individual products.

Industry Type and Class Guide
This section lists operations by industry type and class arranged in alphabetical order.

Architectural Casework – Companies that produce items used to finish interior building or remodeling, such as bookcases, stairs, entrances, millwork and wood paneling for walls

Brokers and Wholesalers – Companies that broker or wholesale forest products, such as lumber, pulpwood, post and poles, sawlog and veneer logs

Commercial Furniture - Companies that produce furniture for the retail and wholesale market

Commercial Sawmill - A mill whose principal operation is on a regular work schedule, producing standard industry products (lumber, cants, and chips) that are used in volume by non-related industries or by industries that remanufacture into consumer products (may engage in some custom work)

Concentration Yard – Companies that aggregate logs, lumber, poles, or post

Cooperage – Companies that produce tight barrels and other slack containers

Crafts/Arts – Companies that produce items for the craft industry such as turkey calls, cutting boards, and picture frames

Custom Sawmill – A mill whose principal operation is on a need basis schedule, producing items of dimension by predetermined quantities, from the mill’s own logs or from the product recipient’s logs (may engage in some commercial work). This class/type also includes portable sawmills. These are mills that can be transported to the customer's woodlots for log breakdown

Dimension and Millwork – Operators that produce cut-to-size lumber, furniture, cabinet parts and produce moulding and millwork primarily for the internal use in residential and commercial buildings

Dry Kiln Operations – List of companies that have dry kilns in Kentucky. These include, custom and own-use, as well as commercial kiln operations

Flooring Mill – A company that produces wood coverings for residential and commercial use

General Custom Woodworking – Companies that produce items that do not fit into any other category

Handle Mill – Mills that use logs and/ or bolts in the production of squares to be turned into tool handles. Some may do the turning for the handles
Houseboat Manufacturers – Companies that produce house boats and specific items related to the house boat manufacturing process

Log Cabin Producers - Operations that produce log cabin, log cabin parts and log cabin kits

Musical Instrument Manufacturers – Operations that produce musical instruments such as dulcimers, guitars and banjos.

Pallets and Containers – Operations that produce pallets, skids, dunnage, and other containers and parts for producing them

Peeled Post Producers – Operations that produce peeled post and poles

Pulp and Paper Mills – Operations that produce kraft fibers, bleached pulp and paper

Pulp Chip Producers – Operations that produce chips for the pulp and paper mills

Recycling – Companies that reclaims wood and wood products for reuse and remanufacturing

Residue Use Manufacturing – Operations that use, in their manufacturing of wood products, waste residues (such as mulch, animal bedding, shavings, fuel pellets and charcoal), from other wood products manufacturers

Retail Store – A company that also has retail outlets

Sporting Equipment – Companies that produce sports related items, such as golf clubs, and baseball bats

Stave and Heading Mills – Operations that produce material for use as staves and headings in cooperage production, both tight and slack cooperage

Storage Building producers – Operations that build self contained buildings for storage and garden/lawn use

Turning Squares and Blanks – Operations that produce squares and blanks, which will be turned into rounds at another operation

Trusses and Laminated Timbers – Operations that produce laminated structural material or building trusses

Veneer and Plywood Mills – Operations that slice wood for veneer and/or plywood

Wood Treating Plants – Operations that treat wood with preservatives, either by pressure or dipping
Forests are a valuable part of Kentucky’s landscape providing significant resources and opportunities benefiting the Commonwealth. One important and verifiable benefit is the economic contributions of Kentucky’s forest and wood industries. Analysis of these industries indicated a total economic impact of $12.8 billion and 59,000 jobs in 2013. Kentucky is one of the leading producers of hardwood forest products in the south and exports wood products across the nation and the world. This economic impact was generated from forests located in all 120 counties of the Commonwealth providing resources harvested by over 1,800 logging firms and processed at 703 facilities located in 109 counties. These industries include: sawmills, pulp and paper mills, and a wide variety of secondary producers such as cabinet, barrel, and flooring manufacturers. Analysis indicates that Kentucky will remain the leading producer of hardwood sawlogs in the South and one of the top three in the nation.

The amount of hardwood timber and pulpwood harvested is directly related to the demand by mills which is driven by hardwood product demand and hardwood log and pulpwood supplies. The majority of hardwood timber and pulpwood production comes from Kentucky’s 12.5 million acres of forest covering 49 percent of the state. Seventy-five percent of Kentucky’s 12.5 million acres of forests are family-owned. Farms in Kentucky were 22 percent wooded representing a significant portion (3.1 million acres or 25%) of Kentucky’s forests. Family-owned forests, including farms, provided the majority of timber and pulpwood used in Kentucky indicating the importance of timber income to private landowners.

The forests of Kentucky support an important industry which makes significant contributions to the Commonwealth’s economy. However, Kentucky’s forests also provide countless other environmental benefits as well. Environmental benefits of trees and forests include ecosystems services such as: cleaner air and water, carbon sequestration, biodiversity, wildlife habitat and provide Kentuckians with recreational opportunities, aesthetic beauty, and a host of other intrinsic values.
The mission of the Kentucky Division of Forestry (KDF) is "to protect, conserve and enhance the forest resources of the Commonwealth through a public informed of the environmental, social and economic importance of these resources."

The division offers a wide variety of programs and services ranging from landowner assistance and master logger training to forest health protection, urban forestry and wildland fire management. The professional technical assistance collectively delivered by KDF foresters and rangers throughout the multiple programs contributes directly to maintaining and enhancing sustainable forests, leading to vibrant and resilient forest-based economies throughout the Commonwealth.

The information within this Forest Product Industries of Kentucky Directory is collected from timber output surveys and "on-site" industry visits for database maintenance courtesy of the Kentucky Division of Forestry, Forest Resource Utilization Program and in partnership with University of Kentucky, Department of Forestry Extension data collection efforts. Other objectives and goals of the KDF Forest Resource Utilization Program in an effort to continuously promote Kentucky Forest Product Industries and forest economy include the following:

- Participation in the Kentucky Forest Health Task Force for forest product utilization and marketing concerns
- Participation and support of the Ohio Valley Lumber Drying Association
- Support of Kentucky Forest Industries Association "Kentucky Wood Expo" event and forestry outreach efforts
- Maintenance of the forest industries databases for promotion of forest product utilization and marketing
- Collect on-site Delivered Log Pricing Data and trend information for the benefit of forest landowners and forest industry
- Production of the 'Kentucky Growing Gold' publication for the promotion of Kentucky's forest industries
- Conduct state-wide Timber Product Output Surveys
- Provide and contribute current forest industry information to the University of Kentucky, Department of Forestry, for the state Forest Economic Analysis and Report
- Facilitate an increase of the state's certified forests and certified forest products directly through the Kentucky Tree Farm Committee (KDF Stewardship Program), SFI, and Forest Stewardship Council, and Chain of Custody programs
- Provide and maintain Informational needs and support of emerging biomass utilization for energy to create more forest related economic opportunity and to meet recommendations of the Executive Task Force on Biomass and Biofuels Development in Kentucky
- Promotion of urban wood utilization and marketing in response to storm damage, insect and disease impacts and supporting emerging biomass markets
- Provide support in development of local and regional ecosystem services markets
- Work cooperatively with the Kentucky Department of Agriculture, Export Program and Advisor in forest product export opportunities
- Participate in the Southern Group of State Foresters, Services, Utilization and Marketing Committee to promote Kentucky Forest Products and industries and the value of the South's forestry sector at a regional and global level.

University of Kentucky
Cooperative Extension
The University of Kentucky’s Cooperative Extension forestry program is focused on effectively delivering knowledge, insight, and solutions that address forest and forest-industry-related challenges affecting the quality of life of all Kentuckians. The program develops and delivers educational and training programs and resources to enhance economic opportunities for individuals, businesses and communities while improving the stewardship and health of Kentucky’s forestlands and associated natural areas and resources. Below is a listing of some of the programs and services the Forestry Extension Group provides.

Forest Industry / Wood Technology - providing established forest industry with solutions associated with wood processing as well as entrepreneurial assistance to start up wood based businesses in Kentucky. Programs and assistance are also provided for homeowners and the general public on wood related issues.

Wood Entrepreneur Assistance - Assistance is provided by using the RCARS Wood Utilization Center for wood based entrepreneurs.

Forest Industry Support - technical outreach to the primary and secondary wood industry, including lean manufacturing, energy audits, manufacturing efficiency, technical support, and log and lumber grading and drying.

Technical Training Classes - Classes are conducted for computer controlled and other machinery used in the industry. For information go to www.ukforestry.org (Programs).

Forest and Woodland Certification Information and Chain-of-Custody Certification – forest industries interested in developing chain-of-custody certification for FSC and/or SFI or those needing assistance with certification for woodland owners can be obtained by contacting the Center for Forest and Wood Certification at info@forestcertificationcenter.org or 855-579-2690.

Forest Management and Silviculture – includes continuing education programs, assistance and publications on forest management including timber production, sustainable timber management, timber sales and forest health and Best Management Practices.

Advanced Forestry and Forest Operations – Advanced training for woodland owners, loggers, county agents, and foresters and natural resource professionals are conducted on a wide array of topics including general hardwood forestry, pesticide applications, silviculture, harvesting, selling timber and certification.

Professional Forestry Workshops and Hardwood Notes – technical workshops and publications on important aspects of hardwood silviculture available at www.ukforestry.org.

Logger Education and Training – UK Forestry Extension provides statewide comprehensive logger training and education programs, logger training publications, and Best Management Practices training and education materials.

Kentucky Master Logger Program - The Kentucky Master Logger program is a cooperative program of the UK, the KY Forest Industries Association and the Kentucky Division of Forestry. Visit www.masterlogger.org for more information.

Certified Master Logger Program – This program certifies the performance of logging firms owned by master loggers in Kentucky and Tennessee. The program is Rainforest Alliance certified under SmartLogging standards. www.certifiedmasterlogger.com

Tree, Wildflower, Wood, and Mushroom ID - Tree, shrub, and wildflower identification can be obtained directly from the UK Herbarium housed in the Department of Forestry. Submit tree, shrub, and wildflower samples using the Woody Plant and Wildflower Identification Form found at www.ukforestry.org.

Wildlife and Ecosystems – includes programs in urban wildlife management, creating and managing native warm season grasslands, integrated wildlife damage management and biodiversity and ecosystems management.

Kentucky Native Plant and Wildlife Blog Wildlife – provides up to date information on native plants and wildlife.

Wildlife and Outdoor Photography Blog - It will showcase the state of Kentucky, its landscapes, habitats, wildlife, wildflowers and waterfalls.

Snake Identification - Snake identification is available online at www.kentuckysnakes.org

Constant Contact Newsletters - three Constant Contact Newsletters are used to communicate breaking news that impacts forestry and woodland owners and the wood industry in Kentucky. These include Kentucky Woodlands E-News, Kentucky Wood Industry E-News, and Certification E-News. Go to www.ukforestry.org to subscribe.

Kentucky Woodlands Magazine – a full color publication for Kentucky woodland owners and the natural resource professionals that work with them. The magazine promotes the stewardship of Kentucky’s family owned forests. Kentucky Woodlands Magazine is also available online at www.kentuckywoodlands.org. The magazine is a partnership venture with the Kentucky Division of Forestry.

County Webinars and Programs – Forestry offers the Fall Webinar Series for presentation at County Cooperative Extension Offices and other electronically delivered programs.

Woodland Owner Programs - UK Forestry Extension runs continuing education programs for woodland owners in Kentucky and provides assistance for County Agents and aligned organizations to help develop woodland owner programs.

Kentucky Woodland Owner Short Course – a classroom and field based education program offered three times a year specifically for Kentucky woodland owners.

Youth - UK Forestry Extension runs and assists with youth forestry programming in Kentucky.

Kentucky Forest Leadership Program – an annual forestry youth leadership program at Jabez Leadership Center. This week long camp uses state and local foresters including foresters from the KDF to assist in educating youth about forests and forestry.

4-H – including both Junior and Senior Forestry 4-H Competitions is coordinated by UK Forestry Extension.

Win With Wood - is a forestry competition program for youth in eastern Kentucky. It has many 4-H similarities however it is open to all schools and organizations in eastern Kentucky.

For information on any of these programs, visit www.ukforestry.org or call 859.257.7597.
